Mammoth Cave Single Cave Entry

Mammoth Cave is a self-guided cave, where visitors explore along the boardwalks and platforms, through the majestic chambers of the cave. This is much more than a cave - it is a complete nature experience.

Smaller groups of visitors will pick up an MP3 self-guided audio tour to get started; available in English, French, German, Malay and Mandarin.

Entering the cave through bushland via a gently sloping boardwalk, visitors quickly realise just how much there is to see here.

Over 10,000 fossils had at one time accumulated inside the cave; upon excavating, many of these were found to be remains of Australian Megafauna (giant animals) that became extinct around 46,000 years ago. There is even a 50,000-year-old 'zygomaturus' jawbone embedded in the cave wall.

After exiting the cave, there is the option of a walk along the beautiful Marri Trail. Visitors during the winter and spring months will see a stream flowing through the cave, with the water stained red from natural tannins.
